What is Partnership for Children?

Partnership for Children is a collaboration between 12 youth-serving agencies in Elkhart County. We help youth and families who need extra support learning to manage behaviors and emotions.

How will my child benefit from Partnership for Children?

- You will receive an individualized assessment for needs of your child and family
- You choose the services and resources you believe will meet your needs while building on the strengths of your family
- Work on personalized behavioral and social skills to help your child succeed.
- Develop a broader personal, family and social support system.
- Avoid the juvenile justice system, school suspension and high risk, dangerous behaviors.

How much does Partnership for Children cost?

PFC is free to families, thanks to generous support from the Community Foundation of Elkhart County, Robert Weed Corporation, Ancon Construction, Everence, Goshen Noon Kiwanis Club, the Oaklawn Foundation and others.

How can I enroll my child in Partnership for Children?

Children must be referred to PFC through one of our partner agencies. Your child may already be involved with one of these programs and you can ask their staff about a referral to PFC. If you would like to enroll your child in one of our partner agencies, contact them directly.
